On International Women's Day, new residential buildings were opened in the velayats of the country

In honor of the holiday, mothers of our Motherland with many children were awarded with new homes, that is, women who are raising 8 or more children became a special gift for festive events.