

Turkmenistan has a continental desert climate, which means that it has hot summers and cold winters. The seasons in Turkmenistan are:

Spring (March to May) - The weather starts to warm up in the spring, with temperatures ranging from 10 to 20 degrees Celsius. It can be a good time to visit if you want to see the country's deserts and mountains without the extreme heat of the summer.

Summer (June to August) - Summers in Turkmenistan can be very hot, with temperatures reaching up to 40 degrees Celsius. It's not the best time to visit if you're not comfortable with extreme heat.

Autumn (September to November) - Autumn is a good time to visit Turkmenistan as the weather is mild and the landscape is colorful.

Winter (December to February) - Winters in Turkmenistan can be cold, with temperatures dropping below freezing. The country can be quite dry during this time, and it's not the best time to visit if you're not comfortable with cold weather.

It's always good to check the weather forecast for the specific dates of your trip and plan accordingly.

The best time to visit Turkmenistan is generally from April to October, when the weather is warm and dry. The summer months can be quite hot, with temperatures reaching up to 40 degrees Celsius. Winter can be cold, with temperatures dropping below freezing, and it can also be quite dry. It's best to check the weather forecast for the specific dates of your trip and plan accordingly.

<https://www.wewillnomad.com>