

A Romanian pianist set a record by hitting the keys 500 times in the shortest time.

Romanian pianist Zoltan Turzo reached a new pinnacle of musical mastery by hitting the keys 500 times in just 30 seconds. Now his achievement must be recognized by the Guinness World Records committee.

The previous record belonged to Japanese musician Keita Hattori and was 495 key hits in half a minute.

Zoltan holds several “musical” records. For example, he played the piano at an altitude of 6 kilometers and set the record for the longest piano playing marathon - 130 hours.
