

The international rating agency Fitch Ratings has assigned the State Insurance Organization of Turkmenistan a "B stable" rating for Insurer Financial Strength (IFS) and Long-Term Issuer Default Rating (IDR). This was reported by the press service of the relevant organization.

This rating will contribute to further activation of the organization's foreign economic activities and expansion of economic cooperation with other countries.

Fitch Ratings is an American corporation specializing in providing the global credit markets with independent and forward-looking credit ratings, analytical research, and data.