

The goal of “Brief News” is to help users stay informed by providing daily updates and video content, as explained by the media. News summaries and videos are updated throughout the day.

Currently, this feature is only available to a small group of Google TV users in the USA. It will appear on the “For You” page on Google TV.

The experimental feature has not yet been widely adopted, but it is expected to change soon.