

The State Bank for Foreign Economic Affairs of Turkmenistan celebrated its 33rd anniversary on January 27. Over the years, it has become an important financial institution, actively contributing to the development of the country and supporting entrepreneurial activities.

Since its inception, the bank has been actively working on improving financial services, implementing modern technologies, and expanding the range of services offered to clients. The institution plays a key role in the implementation of state programs aimed at economic development and attracting foreign investments.

The Banker magazine of the Financial Times publication from the United Kingdom named the State Bank for Foreign Economic Affairs of Turkmenistan "Best Bank" for the 15th time.
