

"If I see one more Nazi salute in my feed, I'll lose my mind. The recommendation algorithm on this platform is complete garbage! I want to speak to the manager right now," Musk declared in his angry tweet.

Users who responded to the message reminded the businessman, now a politician, that the social network with such algorithms belongs to him.