

The victory of Azerbaijan's national Greco-Roman wrestling team in the European championship and Turkey's national team securing second place are not just sporting achievements but also a vivid reflection of the unity and strength of the Turkic world.

These accomplishments clearly demonstrate how the concept of 'Two states, one nation' rises to new heights not only in political and cultural realms but also in the field of sports. These victories highlight the unity of Turkic peoples, brotherly ties, and the high level of mutual support. Such successes not only increase the enthusiasm for sports but also create inspiring goals for the younger generation.

I wholeheartedly congratulate the national teams of Azerbaijan and Turkey! May Turkic wrestling and the traditions of brotherhood continue for many years. These victories show us how important and fruitful it is to stand together and trust one another.
