

The famous Italian club Inter is interested in defender Matthijs de Ligt. According to Tuttosport, the club wants to loan him with the option to buy later.

Looking at past transfers, last summer Manchester United bought him from Bayern Munich for €45+5 million. Currently, de Ligt plays for the Manchester club and has established himself as a capable defender.

If this transfer happens, Inter's defensive lineup will strengthen, and new dynamics could emerge in European football. The transfer is not yet confirmed, but fans and analysts are closely following developments.