

Renowned national artist and iconic screen star Nora Aunor was a remarkable figure who captured the hearts of her generation and the entire art community. She was recognized not only on screen but also as an inspiring force for people in life. Nora Aunor passed away on April 16, 2025, yet her image will forever remain in the hearts.

The memories Nora Aunor left for her family and beloved daughter Lotlot de Leon are profound. Lotlot recalls her mother as “a source of eternal light” and “never forgotten, always cherished.” Nora proved herself not only in the world of art but also in family life as a strong and responsible matriarch.

Her screen portrayals, along with her achievements in art, create a legacy that will continue to live in the hearts of millions. Nora Aunor’s image will not only be a part of art history but also live on in the hearts of those who cherished her. Nora will always be remembered and honored with love by those close to her.