

Chelsea has made an important decision regarding Mudryk. It concerns European competitions

London's Chelsea is expected to award a medal to Ukrainian winger Mykhailo Mudryk if the club wins the UEFA Conference League, according to the popular British publication Daily Mail.

According to the source, Chelsea has the right to decide which players and coaches will receive winner's medals. Despite Mudryk's suspension from football due to a doping case, the Blues still intend to honor him.

In this edition of the Conference League, Mykhailo Mudryk played 4 matches in the league stage, scoring 3 goals and providing 3 assists. Additionally, he appeared in 2 matches and recorded 1 assist in the tournament's qualification phase.

Previously, a Chelsea player named Mykhailo Mudryk as his idol.
