

One of the world's greatest beauties is the unique shapes and colors of eyes. However, sometimes people lose an eye for various reasons, which can change their self-perception and outlook on life. This is where a skilled creator like Christina Leitzel comes in.

Christina doesn't just make standard prosthetic eyes—she creates extraordinary stories along with them. On TikTok and Instagram, she is known as “Christina Oculara” and has gained popularity for her artistic and aesthetic approach.

Her work features everlasting flowers—an eye shimmering like a sunflower, a heart-shaped reflection in a pet's gaze, and even symbols of happiness that capture human emotions.

Unusual Requests, Unique Worlds

One day, a man arrived with a small box in his hands. He wanted to merge the ashes of his late wife into his prosthetic eye, so she could “see everything he sees.”

Another client loved alternative fashion and requested a bright, mirror-like eye with a metallic iris. He believed his style deserved to be complemented by such a unique design, and Christina crafted the perfect version for him.

Every eye carries a story, and Christina makes these stories even more profound. She is not just a master of eye creation—she helps people rediscover themselves.

The Creation of Eyes - A New Beginning for People

Christina Leitzel has proven that prosthetic eyes are not just medical devices but true works of art. Her craft changes people's perspectives on life and strengthens their sense of individuality.

She has one main goal: "I just want my clients to be happy. At the end of the day, they have to feel comfortable with themselves."

Christina Leitzel doesn't just create eyes—she gives people the opportunity to embrace their inner strength, courage, and the chance for transformation.
