There are casualties. In Paris, an unknown individual drove into a crowd of PSG fans.

On one of the central streets of Paris, a car plowed into a crowd of PSG supporters celebrating their team's victory over Arsenal.

This was reported by Sport24.

Several people were injured.

Regarding the attackers, the fans reportedly chased down the vehicle and set it on fire. The fate of those inside the vehicle remains unknown.

Police intervened in the incident and were forced to use tear gas.

After PSG's Champions League semi-final victory, the streets of Paris became quite loud with celebrations.