

Google has just now added a quick scroll button to Discover tape

Google updated the Discover tape, adding a new button that helps to quickly return to the beginning of the news. She appears when you leaf through the tape and begin to scroll the page up.

The novelty is available only in the latest beta version of the Google application (v16.28.59.sa.arm64) and works if you open Discover directly from the main screen of the phone-with a finger to the right. If you enter the Google application itself, the button does not appear.

Google has just now added a quick scroll button to Discover tape

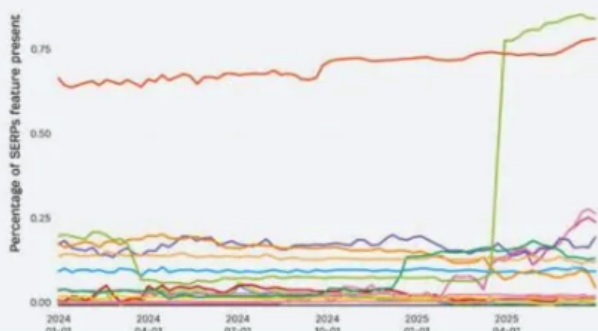

Blinkit, Zepto and other q-comm players throw light on dark stores

1d

A Ahrefs

Goodbye, Featured Snippets: How SERP Features Have Evolved in the AI Era

1d

S Sammy Fans

OnePlus Pad Lite launched in India

2h

TC TechCrunch

User privacy app Cloaked adds AI-powered caller screening

1d

TelecomTalk

Androidauthority

It is still unknown whether this button will appear in the usual version of Discover inside the

Все права защищены

save pdf date >>> 25.01.2026

Google has just now added a quick scroll button to Discover tape

Google application, but the developers continue to test various innovations. For example, it has recently been known that Google is trying to add automatic II resume to Discover tape.