

Huawei plans to release a new version of its three -fold smartphone in September, almost a year after the debut of the first device - Mate XT. However, the new model will not be called Mate XT 2. According to the latest rumors from China, it will receive the name Mate XTS.

According to insiders, the novelty will receive a more powerful processor, improved cameras and new color options. Everything else will remain the same as in the original model.

Since the launch of the Mate XT last year, more than 500 thousand copies in China have been dispersed, despite the high price.

Mate XTS will be offered in four colors - white, black, red and purple. Twice as much as the previous version.