

New images of Google Pixel 10 smartphones have appeared on the network. In addition to them, other novelties are shown on the renders – Pixel Watch 4 smart watches and Pixel Buds Pro 2 headphones.

First, the leak occurred due to the fault of Google itself – the company accidentally published official images. Then, the famous insider Evan Blass posted in social networks high -quality Renders Pixel 10 Pro, 10 Pro XL, Watch 4 and Buds Pro 2. All devices are shown in a new gray color called “Moonstone” (lunar stone). Perhaps in headphones this color will be called Sterling.

Blass later published another portion of images where other colors can be seen:

Indigo (blue) – only for the usual Pixel 10 model;

Jade (green with golden elements) – available in Pro versions;

Obsidian (black) – a classic version.

The Pixel Watch 4 on the image is shown with a violet strap, which is supposedly called “Iris”. Buds Pro 2 will also be available in Moonstone color.

The official announcement of the entire new line of devices is expected on August 20.
