

Nothing seems to prepare a new gadget. On the official page of the brand in X (former Twitter) in India, a mysterious image appeared with the signature: "What do we see?" In the picture there is a Glyphs screen of a Phone smartphone (3) with an incomprehensible symbol.

What exactly Nothing wants to show is still unclear. This can be either a hint of a completely new device, and an announcement of an existing ruler. Recently, there are rumors that the company is working on more affordable models of smartphones - perhaps marked "Lite" or "T".

Previously, Nothing has already issued budget devices such as Phone (3a), Phone (3a) Pro and CMF Phone 2 Pro, which were successful. Therefore, a new riddle can mean expansion of this series.
