

Xiaomi is preparing to launch Redmi 15 (last year the usual Redmi 14 was not released). So, images that look like official Redmi 15 renders got into the network.

On the front panel, more subtle frames are visible than the previous Redmi 13 model, but on renders it is still difficult to evaluate for sure.

The smartphone is shown in three colors: black, purple and silver-gold. The back of the design is similar to the Note 15 line. The main difference is a triple camera. Redmi 13 had only a main camera at 108 megapixels and a 2 megapixel macromodule.

According to early leaks, Redmi 15 will receive improvements in the screen, battery, cameras and processor. It is expected that the release will take place in the near future.