

There are more solutions for the digitalization of business in the Bank of Technology Bank for Moscow

In the online resident "Technology Bank" located on the Moscow investment portal, more than 530 decisions for enterprises have become available. This was announced by Deputy Mayor Maxim Liksutov.

The service helps metropolitan companies find modern technologies to improve work, automation of processes and increase information security. All developments are pre - testing and are added to the register only after a successful check.

The register is constantly updated. In 2025, new developments were added to it, including from the Moscow Mositlab. Among them is a storage system with artificial intelligence and recognition of persons that monitors the condition of the tools and controls access, as well as a quality control system with high measurement accuracy.

The service is available online via MOS ID or supplier portal account.
