

The presentation of Apple is scheduled for September 9, on Tuesday, however, the Internet has already appeared invitations to the “linden” event.

Fake invitations are made with the Apple logo in copper-orange colors, which hints at the new color of the iPhone 17 Pro models. So far, there is no consensus, why should someone have reporters and fans of Apple. But these invitations were sent to the social network X and claim not only mass, but also for the identity of a real invitation. At the same time, really, according to the WCCFTECH portal with reference to Apple official documents, the invitations will be sent on August 26 so that all potential participants in the event have two weeks for training.

It is expected that at its presentation Apple will present four new iPhone 17 models: the base model, iPhone 17 Air, and two PRO models. The iPhone 17 Air will be ultra -thin and replace the Plus model, and Pro will with updated design and functionality.

The iPhone 17 will receive a chip A19, iPhone 17 Air – A19 Pro (there will be a cut version), Pro – A19 Pro with dilated capabilities. In the younger model and AIR model, a display with a high update frequency will appear for the first time.

Apple Watch Series 11 with a pulsoximeter and AirPods Pro 3 can also be represented.
