

Honor Magic V Flip 2 will be fully presented on August 21: Design and Colors are disclosed

Honor officially announced that her new Magic V Flip 2 folding smartphone will be represented on August 21 in China. Full characteristics have not yet been disclosed, but there are official images and leaks.

Magic V Flip 2 will retain a large external display, but will receive a more symmetrical double chamber: two identical modules instead of different sizes, and the flash is located in the lower part to “increase the useful area of the screen”. The diagonal of the outer screen is expected about 4 inches.
