

Xiaomi continues to expand the Redmi Note 15 series. In China, the company quietly launched the new Redmi Note 15R model, which is actually Redmi 15 5G, recently represented in India.

The smartphone received a 6.9-inch display with a resolution of 2340 × 1080, the update frequency of 144 Hz, support for DC Dimming and WET Touch 2.0 technology, which allows you to use a wet hands screen. The maximum brightness reaches 850 threads.

The device is based on the Snapdragon 6s Gen 3 processor, up to 12 GB of RAM and up to 512 GB of internal memory (with Microsd support). A 50 MP camera with an additional sensor is installed behind, in front - 8 megapixels ..

The smartphone is equipped with a print scanner on the side, NFC, infrared port, stereodines with Dolby Atmos, Bluetooth 5.1 and Wi-Fi 5. There is also protection of the case according to the IP64 standard and support for two SIMs.

Battery - 7000 mAh with fast charging 33 watts.

Prices in China begin with 1499 yuan ($ 209 / € 178).