

On the network were pictures of Pixel 10 covers with built -in magnets

The Nieuwemobiel insider has published official images of covers for Google Pixel 10, Pixel 10 Pro and Pixel 10 Pro XL. Like the Pixel 9 series covers, these accessories are made of silicone with a soft microfiber lining from the inside. But this year there is one important innovation - built -in magnets.

On the inside of the Pixel 10 case, there is now a circle in the center, which is probably the contour of the built -in magnet. The insider said that together with the Pixel 10 Google series will present Pixelsnap accessories: magnetic charger panels and docking stations. Earlier it was reported that three accessories were seen in the development: a magnetic charger, a charger with a stand, a Pixelsnap rings stand. At the same time, magnets are built into the Pixel 10 phones, so the case is not needed to use Pixelsnap accessories.

However, the presence of magnets in covers allows them to be used with any magnetic accessories, even if the phone is in a case.

In addition to the magnet, a new Pixel logo appeared on the inside of the case at the bottom. The colors of the covers correspond to the colors of the phones. The Pixel 10 case is available in the colors of Indigo, Obsidian, Limonchello and Frost. And the covers for the Pixel 10 Pro and Pixel 10 Pro XL are in the colors lunar stone, nephritis and porcelain.
