

Pixel Buds 2A - new budgetary headphones from Google with active noise reduction and spatial sound, which were previously available only in premium models. This is a significant improvement in comparison with the first generation of the series A, the Android Police portal notes.

The budget model is $ 99, but the noise reduction level is offered, which is “impressive” for such a device. It emphasizes that the noise is still not the same as the Pixel Buds Pro 2. The spatial audio is still a “pleasant option” due to limited compatible content.

The Pixel Buds 2A operating time is 7 hours with noise reduction and 20 hours with a cover, which is almost comparable to Pro 2, but without wireless charging and other premium functions.