

Red Magic released a gamepad that turns the smartphone into a portable console

In June, Red Magic introduced the Gaming Tablet 3 Pro game tablet in China. Together with him, a new accessory was shown - the Shadow Blade 3 gamepad. At first it was sold only in China, but now it is available in other countries.

Shadow Blade 3 turns a smartphone into a portable console. The gamepad connects via Bluetooth 5.3 and is suitable for both Android and iOS. In addition to phones, it can be used with tablets - for example, up to the iPad mini. For computers, a separate USB adapter with a connection of 2.4 GHz is provided.

The controller received accurate joysticks with the effect of the hall, customizable buttons, gyroscope, vibration and even backlight.

The cost of the novelty is $ 129 or 129 euros. In the UK, the price is 109 pounds.