

Portuguese striker Cristiano Ronaldo was awarded the Golden Boot as the top scorer of the previous season in the Saudi Arabian football championship. This marks the second consecutive time he has received this prestigious award.

According to a statement from Al-Nassr Football Club’s press service, the award ceremony was conducted by Majid Abdullah, the club’s former captain and its all-time leading goal scorer. The moment symbolized not only sporting achievement but also respect between generations.

In the 2024/2025 season, Ronaldo played in 30 matches, scoring 25 goals and providing 3 assists. These statistics highlight not only his skill as a seasoned striker but also his role as a spiritual leader of the team. Ronaldo has been playing for Al-Nassr since 2023, and his contract with the club runs until 2027.
