

The Warface game has become available on Steam for players from the CIS countries after a three -year absence. Earlier, the project was exclusively presented only on the VK Play platform.

The developers from Astrum Entertainment confined to return the large -scale update of the “Port of Shadows” in the Asian style. A new combat pass with unique awards appeared in the game, including four thematic weapons of the Great Dragon series and Kiridashi’s special knife.

Significant changes have affected the system of modifications of weapons – now players can install up to 9 improvements at the same time. The “campaign” mode was also redesigned, which can now be held alone, which is especially convenient for beginners.

The PVE-component was replenished with the new Panda weapon series, and lovers of the competitive mode will be able to get a rewards of the Knockout series through rating matches. For long -term progression, prestigious golden weapons are added.

The update is already available on the VK Play platform, and the Steam game page is open to add desires to the list. In the near future, the shooter will be available for download through this service.
