

Today, December 6, at an expanded meeting of the Cabinet of Ministers, the esteemed President Serdar Berdimuhamedov, addressing the participants, announced that in connection with the summarizing of the year, he has completed writing a book entitled "The Neutrality of Turkmenistan — a Clear Path of Peace and Trust."

The book broadly covers the significance of Turkmenistan's permanent neutrality, which has been recognized three times by the United Nations General Assembly, as well as historical initiatives aimed at ensuring peace and trust throughout the world. It also summarizes the major milestones and achievements attained by the country.

«THE ASHGABAT TIMES».