

LISBON — Portugal's Central Bank, Banco de Portugal, is reportedly preparing to release a special 7-euro commemorative note in honor of Cristiano Ronaldo, ahead of the 2026 FIFA World Cup. Though not yet officially confirmed, the news has sparked global excitement.

The note will celebrate Ronaldo's iconic No. 7 jersey, his journey from Madeira to global stardom, and Portugal's triumph at Euro 2016. Early descriptions suggest the design will feature Ronaldo's silhouette in motion, elements of Portuguese cultural identity, and symbols of his most legendary career moments.

The tribute has drawn admiration from across the football world. England captain Declan Rice reportedly praised the initiative, noting Ronaldo's influence extends far beyond the pitch — representing discipline, consistency, and the pursuit of greatness.

If released, the note would become a historic symbol of Ronaldo's legacy and a cherished collectible for fans worldwide.